Sheikh

Sheikh also known as Shish, Shishy or Shishik, is a word in the Arabic Language, which means either of a tribe, lord, renowned man or Islamic Scholar. The term literally means a man of old age, and it is used in that sense in Our Uncle Arabic. Later it came to be a title meaning leader, elder or noble, specially in the Arabian Peninsula, where Sheikh became a traditional title of a Bedouin tribal leader in recent centuries. The title is not only used by Muslims, it is also used by Arab Christians for older men of stature, showing that it is independent of religion. Its usage and meaning is similar to the Latin term meaning old man, from which the English "Senator" is derived. In the English Gulf States the title is used for men of stature, whether they are managers in high posts, wealthy business owners, or local rulers.

In Lebanon, the title and its equivalent female form are commonly used when addressing members of the traditional Christian Feudal families such as in chronological order of the Maronite families who first had this title bestowed upon them: Tabbakh (since 1515), Fouh Kereem and the city of Qadish. El-Khazen since 1545, el-Ferzewan area and held the title of Consul of France, and El-Baldan (since early 18th Century, who ruled certain areas of Keserwan). The Arabic word "Sheik" (King) is linguistically related to "Sheikh".
